

Lunch and Learn Series 2020

At the CONNECTICUT RIVER MUSEUM
Bring your lunch and learn something new!

"Eagles in Connecticut: This Used to Be Easy"

Brian Hess, CT Department of Energy and Environmental Protection (DEEP)
Wednesday, February 12 | 12:00—1:00 pm

Learn about eagle biology, their decline, their recovery, and what is being done to conserve their populations for future generations.

"Jessie Hull Meyer: An Independent Artist"

Amy Trout, Connecticut River Museum Curator
Wednesday, March 11 | 12:00—1:00 pm

Trout gives an illustrated lecture on the life and art of this important Essex, Connecticut artist who painted views of the waterfront from the 1940s—1970s.

"Connecticut River Fish Migrations"

Steve Gephard, CT Department of Energy and Environmental Protection (DEEP)
Wednesday, April 8 | 12:00—1:00 pm

Gephard discusses monthly fish migration and fish status in the river.

- Be sure to bring your lunch!
- Seating is limited. Be sure to call 860-767-8269 ext. 121 to reserve your spot or register at <https://shop.ctrivermuseum.org/collections/public-programs>.
- Members may attend any of the speakers in the series for free, non-members pay $5.00.

The Connecticut River Museum, 67 Main Street, Essex, CT 06426